Kind of Information

Each entry consists of date of birth, date of death, period of works, quotation, synopsis, key ideas, and most important art with pictures, childhood, early training, legacy and persons who are connected with this biography. It also provides useful resources like books, websites, articles, audio, video and more. More interesting books on Francis Bacon are listed.

The image shows a digital biography page for Francis Bacon. At the top left is a portrait of Bacon. To the right, his name 'Francis Bacon' and title 'British Painter' are displayed. Below this, his birth and death dates are listed: 'Born: October 28, 1909 - Dublin, Ireland' and 'Died: April 28, 1992 - Madrid, Spain'. A horizontal timeline below shows his life from 1900 to 2000, with a green bar indicating his 'YEARS WORKED' from approximately 1928 to 1992. A 'TABLE OF CONTENTS' sidebar on the left lists sections like Synopsis, Key Ideas, and Most Important Art. A quote by Bacon is featured: 'An illustrational form tells you through the intelligence immediately what the form is about, whereas a non-illustrational form works first upon sensation and then slowly leaks back into the fact.' Below the quote is a signature of Francis Bacon. The 'Synopsis' section begins with a paragraph about his iconic images of wounded humanity in post-war art.
