Scope and Coverage	The goal of Elephind.com is to make it possible to search all the world's online historic newspapers from one place. They aren't there yet, but they are adding more newspapers every day. Most of the newspapers are covered from the beginning of 19th century to present.

Kind of Information

With Elephind.com it is now possible for family historians, genealogists, and researchers to search historic digitized newspaper archives from around the globe. Elephind.com is much like Google, Bing, or other search engines but is focused on only historical, digitized newspapers. It enables visitors to search, for free, across many newspaper sites simultaneously, rather than having to visit each site separately. By clicking on the Elephind.com search result that interests visitors, they can go directly to the newspaper site which is liked to Elephind.com.

Many of the smaller newspaper sites are not well known and may be difficult to find with the usual search engines but are searchable from Elephind.com.

The authorities continuing to add more newspapers to Elephind.com, so if at first visitors can't find what they are looking for, they are advised to check back later. Or the authority can add visitors name to their mailing list, and they will email to the users when a new collection is added.

Here at Veridian (Veridian is a software that makes it easy to search, view and interact with digitized newspaper collections on the internet) which involved with lots of newspaper digitization projects for customers like Cornell, Princeton, the National Libraries of New Zealand and Singapore, and many others.
