Brief History

To fill an important gap in the reference tools that may provide relevant data and analysis of minority issues, this yearbook has been conceptualized. The focus of the first issue of the yearbook was Muslims in Europe. With its quality and coverage, soon it became a valuable reference tool for any serious user who wishes to study minority affairs. Volume 1 of this yearbook was published in 2001. Present copyright date is available here i.e. 2016.

Scope and Coverage

This yearbook presents a critical and timely review of contemporary developments in minority-majority relations in Europe. It combines analysis, commentary and documentation in the arena of conflict management, international legal developments and domestic legislation that is affecting European minorities. Religion, minority rights, international law for the minorities, minority problems in post Cold War Europe, power sharing, racism, jurisprudence of the United Nations, political mobilization and such other issues related to the minorities in Europe get their cogent manifestation in this yearbook.

Apart from providing a unique annual overview of minority issues for both scholars and practitioners in this field, the yearbook is an absolute necessity for libraries, research institutes as well as governments and international organizations.

Kind of Information

The yearbook is comprised of research articles, book reviews, surveys on everything that is an issue of the minorities. Browsing the volumes, one can find scholarly writings with topics like, “Bridging National and Ethnic Borders: The European Grouping of Territorial Cooperation as a Space for Minorities”, “The Protection of Economic, Social and Cultural Rights of Persons Belonging to Marginalized and Vulnerable Groups in Times of Financial Crisis: How to Reconcile the Irreconcilable?” and so on.

The articles, book reviews are found with abstract and metrics and related readings of the same publication. To gain access to the full text one needs to log in (via subscription). In the articles the name of the authors are mentioned. The articles which are most cited in a month are also mentioned in Metrics. Metrics of the PDF downloads, HTML full text views, abstract page views etc. are shown here. Media, References are also cited along with the articles.

Special Features

- ❖ The homepage has links to social media like Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn, Google, siteulike, Digg, BibSonomy and del.icio.us.
- ❖ General and advanced search facilities are available.
- ❖ Links to all other types of publication of Brill like journals, e-books etc. have been incorporated in this site.

Arrangement Pattern

The yearbooks in the Brill online.com site fall under Journal category. In the left side of the web page the yearbooks are arranged chronologically with the recent yearbook at the top.

Under “All Titles (A-Z)” option one can find an alphabetic list of all publications of Brill and from there one can visit the desired yearbooks’ list under the alphabet “E”.

The same list of yearbooks can also be accessed from the alphabetically arranged list of “Subjects”. There within the subject “International Law” an alphabetically arranged list of e-books and journals are found and under alphabet “E” the “European Yearbook of Minority Issues Online” is found.

The yearbook is contained with research articles, book reviews etc. in order of their relevance.
