

Language	English
Publisher	OECD
Brief History	On the 50th anniversary of the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD), world leaders and top representatives from business, labour and civil society join OECD Secretary - General Angel Gurría and OECD experts to examine today's pressing issues in the inaugural OECD Yearbook 2011.
Scope and Coverage	The organization has a pivotal role in addressing the challenges that is facing the world economy. Inclusive growth is a prime area of concern for the OECD and the yearbook encompasses all the relevant issues that affect human development. Energy, poverty, unemployment, gender issues, education, disease, climate change, food security, governance, inequality and much more is covered in the OECD yearbook. As an organization, OECD is on a mission to better people's lives by developing effective public policies and thus the OECD yearbook focuses on all the areas that are connected to human development. It says about the key social, economic and environmental issues arising out not only of the recent economic crisis but also of ambitious global agreements that are struck over taxation, development and climate change.
Kind of Information	The yearbooks can be accessed from the OECD forum link found at the bottom of the homepage. The yearbook page is found with the top stories of the latest edition of the yearbook and open publication of the yearbook. By clicking on the link "Click to read" appearing in front of the front cover of the latest edition of the yearbook, the whole of the scanned book can be reached. Each yearbook has a theme of focus. The content of the publication are sectioned under themes like, "Innovative and productive Economies", "Future societies", "From agreement to action" etc. The articles are formatted with the article title, name, designation and a photo of the author, a brief indication of the

content following the main body of text. The main body of the content has excerpts of the content written in bold and bigger font, placed in between paragraphs, graphs, reference source etc. Pictures relevant to the topic are included in the article. Following is an example:

At the end of an article reference sources are provided. At the beginning of each thematic section under which the articles are arranged, a foreword about the theme, brief description of what the writers in this section wanted to say is provided.

At the end of a thematic section, pages from OECD Factbook that depicts charts, graphs of themes like “Infant mortality rate”, “Distribution of foreign and international students in tertiary education” etc. is placed. Screenshot of one such page is shown below:

Snapshots of ideas, views and perspectives, promotional material of OECD publications and other books are included in the yearbook. Specimen of the pages including the above items are shown below:

FROM AGREEMENT TO ACTION

The MNE Guidelines at 40: Implementation still matters

John Dunning

Over the past 40 years, a core of leading scholars in international business has worked to develop a comprehensive set of guidelines for multinational enterprises (MNEs) that would help them to operate in a responsible and sustainable manner. The OECD Guidelines have been central to this effort. In this article, the author discusses the challenges of implementation and the need for continued research and dialogue.

FROM AGREEMENT TO ACTION

Order this now!

Looking for a new OECD publication? Visit our website at www.oecd.org to find the latest titles. Contact us at order@oecd.org.

Share

...the fact that the gap is widening... the OECD Guidelines... the need for continued research and dialogue...

Share high quality content with your network

Twitter

Follow @OECD to stay up to date on the latest news and publications. Visit www.oecd.org for more information.

...the fact that the gap is widening... the OECD Guidelines... the need for continued research and dialogue...

Share high quality content with your network

LinkedIn

Visit www.oecd.org for more information.

An article in the yearbook namely “The productivity and equality nexus” authored by Gabriela Ramos traverse the areas of the relationship of productivity and inequality and how the situation can be improved through effective policy formulations.

Special Features

- ❖ Top stories of the latest edition of the yearbook are available at the homepage.
- ❖ Link to print is given.
- ❖ The digital display of the yearbook has features like, changing the size of the page, making it full screen, email, embed, seeing two pages to ten pages at a time, get link of the pages, search option within the content of the yearbook, sharing the pages in facebook, twitter, GooglePlus, LinkedIn.
- ❖ Link to Facebook, Twitter, youtube, LinkedIn, RSS feed, Email alerts are available at the homepage of OECD.
- ❖ Articles of the yearbook are available both as free publication in scanned pages and as regular web content.

Arrangement Pattern

From the home page of OECD, the OECD Forum link opens up to the yearbook page. The yearbook is arranged chronologically, as depicted below:

Past OECD Yearbook editions: 2015, 2014, 2013, 2012, 2011.

The content of the yearbook is arranged under thematic sections with article titles and author name with their designation. Each item at the content page has a serial number. Apart from articles titles, items like, “OECD Factbook Indicators”, “Focus” are placed at the end of the content page.

Table of contents

INTRODUCTION
6	Towards a more productive, inclusive, world Angel Gurría, Secretary-General of the OECD
9	The economic empowerment of women for more productive and inclusive societies Michelle Bachelet, President of Chile
INNOVATIVE AND PRODUCTIVE ECONOMIES
10	Introduction
12	The productivity and equality nexus Gabriela Ramos, OECD Chief of Staff and Sherpa to the G20/G7
14	All on board to increase productivity for a more inclusive world Rodrigo Valdés, Minister of Finance, Chile
15	Business brief: Randstad
16	The twin challenges of promoting productivity and inclusive growth Catherine Mann, Chief Economist, OECD
18	The digital disruption of productivity Diane Coyle, Professor of Economics, University of Manchester and Fellow, Office for National Statistics
20	For an optimistic revolution Alexander Stubb, Minister of Finance, Finland
22	Digital economy: Why a brighter future could be in our pocket Andy Wyckoff, Director, OECD Directorate for Science, Technology and Innovation
24	In with the in-crowd Anindya Ghose, NEC Faculty Fellow, NYU Stern School of Business
26	OECD Factbook indicators
28	Idea Factory: Productivity
40	Family-friendly governance in response to demographic challenges Katalin Veresné Novák, Minister of State, Ministry of Human Capacities, Hungary
41	On public education in Chile Camila Vallejo Dowling, Communist Party, Member of Parliament (Congress), Chile
42	Code is the poetry of a better world Linda Luukas, Author, Computer Programmer
43	A mystery in the machine Pedro Domingos, Department of Computer Science and Engineering, University of Washington
45	Business brief: McKinsey&Company
46	What dads can do for gender equality Monika Queisser, Willem Adema and Chris Clarke, OECD Directorate for Employment, Labour and Social Affairs
48	Women for peace Haifa Fahoum Al Kaylani, Founding Chair, International Women's Forum and Ibrahim Gambari, Former Foreign Affairs Minister, Nigeria, and UN Under-Secretary-General for Political Affairs
50	Local growth and development: An era of new priorities Michel Landel, CEO, Sodexo
52	Local logic: How cities can make a difference Carolina Tohá, Mayor of Santiago, Chile
53	Inequality and urban growth Ricky Burdett, Professor of Urban Studies, London School of Economics
54	Business brief: AARP
56	OECD Factbook indicators
FROM AGREEMENT TO ACTION

The main body of text of every item can be accessed from the content page from the linked title of the item.

By clicking on the link bars preview of ten consecutive pages of the yearbook can be seen at a time.

Remarks

The organization OECD, being a very important entity at the world arena of Economics, the yearbook with its rich articles authored by high profile dignitaries covering all the relevant areas of inclusive development, is a must read.

Comparable Tools

- European Yearbook of International Economic Law (<http://www.springer.com/gp/book/9783319292144>)

Date of Access

June23, 2016